Deputy Grand Knight—Henry M. Doll.
Chancellor—M. J. Brennan.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Rev. C. R. Norton is walking with a cane these days having met with what might have been a serious accident but fortunately for him the injury is less than at first it appeared to be. Mr. Norton was calling on his brother-in-law, W. F. Anderson, on Louise street Wednesday evening and not being familiar with the premises walked off the lawn which is raised somewhat above the curb, thinking it on the level and in so doing fell, injuring his hip in a painful manner but fortuately breaking no bones. As Mr. Norton is to officiate at the funeral of his old friend Mr. W. L. Henderson, Saturday afternoon and also as chaplain will perform the ceremony of the golden wedding anniversary of Commander Martin this evening in Los Angeles, he is probably crowding his recovery a little but thinks there will be no permanent injury.

THE BIBLE CONFERENCE

All plans have been completed for the third annual Bible conference of Glendale and San Fernando valley. Each year this conference has grown in real vital interest. The program this year is the strongest ever presented, in that Dr. A. C. Gabelein of New York City has been secured as the chief speaker. The complete program has been printed in the Glendale Evening News, and shows a wide range of practical subjects which will interest hundreds of people in this valley.

Dr. Gabelin speaks tomorrow afternoon at 3:30, and twice daily Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, 3:30 and 7:45.

The conference is purely inter-denominational, and the public at large is most cordially invited.

The conference sermon will be delivered by Dr. E. P. Lyon of Pasadena Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

All sessions of the conference will be held at the Presbyterian church corner of Broadway and Cedar St.

ELKS' VAUDEVILLE.

A vaudeville entertainment arranged by J. H. Mellish was staged last evening (Friday) at the Elks' Club House and drew an audience which numbered between four and five hundred. It was a benefit for the lodge's building fund. After it was over, which was about 9 p. m., many members adjourned to the High School grounds to enjoy the Harvest Festival there.

The program included clever impersonations by little Robert Lehman, and dancing by little Eleanor and Lawrence Young who gave a charming exhibition of the Pavlowa Gavotte and the Pershing Trot. Miss Stokes, a profesisonal whistler of this city, who was accompanied upon the piano by Miss McLaren, gave some appreciated numbers, and Miss Maud Ryan of Los Angeles, who is well known here, sang popular songs which appealed to her audience. Mr. Davis of the Santa Monica lodge recited the "Wounded Soldier,' and a moving picture, "The Bell Boy" by Fatty Arbuckle, gave variety to the evening's entertainment.

One of the most enjoyable events of the evening was the concert given by the orchestra of the Pasadna Elks' Club, which also played for the Harvest Festival.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair except cloudy or foggy tonight and in the early morning, near the coast, westerly winds.

BOY SCOUT PROBLEMS

GREAT DIFFICULTY IS BEING EXPERIENCED IN GETTING SCOUT MASTERS.

In talking with the members of the Glendale District Council of Boy Scouts of America, we discover that they are having great difficulty in securing Scout Masters for existing troops, as well as for new troops which could be readily formed.

At no time has there been greater necessity for an active development of the Boy Scout movement. These active alert members of our family are to take on responsibilities of life, business, society and government earlier than those of several generations past. An early induction into the Boy Scout order and a knowledge of its aims and principles, establishes a foundation of honor, fraternity and loyalty to country upon which to build the broader life structure of true character and ability.

Our government recognizes this necessity and it gives to the organization a paternal care and guardianship to the point of making it a patriotic duty to furnish the required leadership for these bright manly boys of today, in order that they may be better fitted to assume the sterner responsibilities of manhood's estate.

Nor is the gain entirely confined to the boys. Scout Masters in their contact with these splendid fellows derive a wonderful uplift. The admiration and wholesouled devotion and loyalty on the part of the boys to the Scout Master awakens new wellsprings of life-giving impulses and adds great zest to the existence of the one upon whom they look with such appreciation and favor.

In this community of homes where the education and development of the children are given such earnest consideration, there should be such a revival of the Boy Scout idea as to include in its membership every boy between the ages of twelve and eighteen years and to produce a surplus of devoted Scout Masters.

The President of this District, Charles H. Toll, or its Secretary, John Robert White, Jr., would be glad to consult with any one inclined to take up this work.

EXEMPTION BOARD AT WORK

The Legal Advisory Board for District No. 7 met Friday evening at the City Hall and organized, with Hartley Shaw as chairman. It was agreed that the Legal Advisory Board will have representatives at the headquarters of the Exemption Board in the Glendale City Hall every day during the period when questionnaires are being returned, for the purpose of assisting registrants in answering their questions, during the following hours: On week days from 8:30 A. M. to 12 M, from 1:30 P. M. to 5 P. M., and from 7 P. M. to 9 P. M.; on Sundays from 9 A. M. to 12 M. The following men have agreed to act as members of the advisory board and will divide the work among them: C. B. Andrews, Frederick Baker, Charles L. Chandler, Oliver O. Clark, W. E. Evans, J. H. Franklin, Blake Franklin, Henry P. Goodwin, A. R. Killgore, J. B. McLaughlin, Harold C. Morton, Albert D. Pearce, Wirt C. Smith, Theodore F. Peirce, W. T. Sprowls, C. T. Van Etten, S. W. Shaull, Bert P. Woodard, Marcus A. Woodard, Richardson D. White, James F. McBryde and Newton Van Why. In addition to the Glendale headquarters, there will be a member of the Advisory Board on duty at Eagle Rock, Burbank and San Fernando. In view of the large number of questionnaires to be filled out—about 1700 in the first call and an additional 1700 in the later call, which is expected to follow immediately—and the short time in which this must be done—about two weeks for each list—more help is desired by the Advisory Board. It is not necessary that the members be practicing attorneys. Any one who is used to handling and making out papers can by a little study do the work. Any one who can help is requested to communicate with the headquarters of the Exemption Board at the City Hall, phone Glendale 1300.

NEWS FROM SERG. SANDERS

A letter from Sergeant A. E. Sanders from Kelly Field near San Antonio enclosing subscription to the Evening News, is written on paper bearing the very attractive letterhead design of the Aero Squadron to which he belongs. By way of news the sergeant says:

"My address remains the same as I am perhaps permanently located here, having been promoted from Instructor to Assistant Chief Instructor.

"This school, the Enlisted Mechanic's Training Department, is now the largest school of its kind in the U. S. The next largest is located at St. Paul.

SHORTENED LINE STIFFENS RESISTANCE

FIGHTING AROUND ST. QUENTIN THE MOST STUBBORN IN WEEKS AND INCLUDES HAND TO HAND STRUGGLES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, September 21.—Field Marshal Haig reported today that fighting was renewed this morning east of Epehy. Fresh German attacks north of Moeuvres were repulsed, while there was violent fighting throughout the night around Gauche Wood.

The British on the St. Quentin sector advanced northwest of Bellinglise and west of Messines in the Flanders sectors.

The French made additional gains east of Essigny le Grande.

The fighting around Cambrai and St. Quentin now is the most stubborn in weeks. Many times the Allies have met the Germans in mid-field, fighting bloody hand to hand struggles. The German retirement has shortened the line seventy miles, giving the Huns larger forces with which to resist the allied attacks.

TO RID SHIPYARDS OF SLACKERS

CROWDER ISSUES NEW DRAFT REGULATION ORDER REQUIRING MONTHLY REPORTS ON SHIPYARD EMPLOYES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, September 21.—Provost Marshal General Crowder today announced new draft regulations regarding shipyard employes, designed to rid the yards of slackers. The regulations require a monthly report from the shipyards of the essentiality of every employe holding a third classification. If a specific claim for continued exemption is not made by the 5th of each month, exemption will be cancelled. The order followed a protest by workmen that pugilists, baseball players, actors and others are holding soft jobs in the shipyards.

"CONTINUOUSLY AND CONTINUALLY GOOD"

THUS GENERAL MARCH CHARACTERIZES WAR SITUATION AND CONFIRMS BRITISH CAPTURES ON CAMBRAI FRONT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, September 21.—Chief of Staff General March announced to newspaper correspondents that 1,750,000 Americans have embarked overseas to date, indicating that 150,000 have been shipped since the last announcement was made.

General March characterized the war situation as "Continuously and continually good."

He said the Americans now are ten and seven-tenths miles from Metz and the same distance from Constans.

The line in Lorraine, he said, has become stabilized and the actions there are largely patrol encounters and artillery duels.

General March confirmed the report of the British capture of 10,000 Germans on the Cambrai-St. Quentin front and said the German losses had been exceedingly heavy.

FIERCE FIGTING AT OUTPOSTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, September 21.—The British in the midst of a severe storm heavily attacked on the three-mile front east of Lempire today where the Germans are holding outposts of the Hindenburg line. The region is strongly defended and at noon fighting was proceeding fiercely. Up to that hour the British had captured between three and four hundred prisoners.

The French today captured Denay, three miles south of St. Quentin.

LONDON, September 21.—The official statement of the Serbian war office today reported an advance of the Allies on a ten-mile front in Macedonia yesterday. Ten additional villages were captured.

ORDER FROM CROWDER

REGISTRANTS AND FAMILIES MUST ATTEND INSTRUCTION MEETINGS NEXT WEEK.

At a meeting last night (Friday) at the Glendale City Hall which convened at the call of Mattison B. Jones acting on behalf of the Exemption Board of this District (No. 7) and on the instructions of Provost Marshal General Crowder, members of the Selective Service Board gathered in response to summons for the purpose of organizing a Board of Instruction whose duty it would be to provide fundamental military instructions for all registrants, and look after their moral and social as well as their physical welfare.

The Board of Instruction as appointed by the Selective Service Board is composed of twenty-one members. Norton C. Wells was appointed chairman, and Glen M. Ely, secretary and treasurer.

The personnel of the board is as follows: Glendale representatives—E. U. Emery, Stephen C. Packer, Capt. W. C. Wattles, Capt. W. B. Kelly, Capt. K. E. Nash, Dr. H. R. Boyer, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, Ezra F. Parker, J. N. McGillis, Clem Moore, Elliott Wyman and T. F. Peirce.

Eagle Rock—R. L. McNitt.
Annandale—Capt. F. E. Heath.
San Fernando—Lieut. R. L. Frazier.
Burbank—W. A. Blanchard.
Lankershim—James Wilson and W. Gregg.

The following committees were appointed:

Military Affairs—Capt. W. C. Wattles, Chairman.

Good Morals and Entertainment—Rev. W. E. Edmonds, Chairman.

Medical and Physical Welfare—Dr. H. R. Boyer, Chairman.

Publicity—R. L. McNitt, Chairman.

Under the plan adopted last evening, mass meeting will be held throughout the District the coming week in order to inform registrants under the selective service regulations what is expected of them.

Tentative plans provide for the holding of at least two public meetings in Glendale the coming Friday evening at the High School and the Palace Grand Theatre. There will be six speakers who will appear at both meetings.

A meeting will be held in Eagle Rock Friday evening at the Eagle Rock Grammar School.

In San Fernando a meeting will be held Saturday evening at a time and place to be announced.

Not only the registrants but their families and others who are interested in the movement are expected and requested by the Board to be present. These meetings are arranged under a general order issued by the Provost Marshal General, E. H. Crowder, on July 4th, and every registrant is expected to attend and receive the military and other instruction to be given.

EXEMPTION BOARD NOTES

The registration work of the local local Exemption Board is now complete, a complete list showing the serial numbers has been posted, an official copy has been sent to the adjutant general, and all questionnaires have been mailed. Men whose questionnaires did not include the little insert regarding industrial occupations, especially agriculture, can have the insert by applying to board headquarters. Legal Advisory Board members in each district will be furnished with a supply of the inserts for distribution to the registrants who call for the same.

Mr. Lanternman reports that the total registration to the closing time of the books in this, the 7th County District, was 3447.

The chairman states that a request has been received from Washington for lists of all registrants who cannot talk English. He fears the list which the board has will be of little value because it is largely made up of Mexicans who belong to a floating population who are here today and somewhere else tomorrow, and whose names are uncertain in spelling because the majority are illiterate.

FRUIT AND FLOWER CARNIVAL

The Woman's Club of Burbank are going to hold a Fruit, Flower and Vegetable Carnival at 129 San Fernando Blvd., Burbank, on September 24-25, both afternoon and evening. Prizes are offered for exhibits of flowers, fruits, vegetables, canned fruits, potted plants, melons, etc. Refreshment and display booths will be numerous. An interesting program of music and prominent speakers is promised. Everybody invited. Admission 25 cents. Proceeds for the benefit of the Red Cross.

RED CROSS BENEFIT

FIRST NIGHT OF HARVEST FESTIVAL AN ARTISTIC AND FINANCIAL SUCCESS

Not less than twelve hundred pleasure seekers enjoyed the racket, the pretty stting of electric lights, flags, and greenery, and the diversified entertainment offered by the Harvest Festival on its opening performance, Friday evening, not to speak of the refreshments. It had been expected that the supper provided by the committee of which Mrs. Ogg is chairman would be well patronized, but no such run on the banquet hall as took place, had been anticipated. As a result many would-be diners had to be turned away and told to come again tonight, and the larder was emptied slick and clean. Mrs. Ogg and her fellow workers now know what to look for and they are making preparations which will prevent any dinner seeker from going hungry this evening. It will be served at the same hour, 6 p. m. in the Cafeteria of the High School and tickets will be on sale at the two hardware stores, Cornwell and Kelty and Bossermans, besides the venders at the Festival this afternoon.

Mrs. Chase didn't have a chance to draw a long breath after she first greased her griddle until the last hot dog had been passed over the counter. She too was cleaned out of stock and is laying in another big supply for today.

All the booths report a big business. The country store was a favorite rendezvous, not for its bargains alone, but for the personal charm of its proprietor Ebenezer Corntossel, and his corps of efficient clerks who all hailed from "Daouwn East," as evidenced by dress and speech. Their appearance was alone worth all it cost any one to get out of the Festival and they will probably be even more Yankee tonight. Ebenezer was great and can get a job on any vaudeville stage when he wants to quit Union High.

The store was also alongside the piano which provided accompaniments for the strolling musicians who furnished unexpected variety. In this role was Miss Evangeline Hunchberger, dressed as a pretty Italian gypsy girl with tambourine, her flowing jet black hair, and glowing complexion so thoroughly fitting the part that a fellow countryman would have sworn she was Italian. Her songs were in that tongue and her beautiful voice and charming looks at once drew a crowd of appreciative listeners.

Mrs. Bierbower, who was the Queen Sylvia of the gypsy camp, needed no gypsy girls to recruit patrons, for she was kept constantly busy the evening through and gave quite wonderful readings, considering the brief time she could give to each seeker for knowledge of the future. The girls who aided her, however, were a picturesque asset, and added greatly to the scene.

On the booth where holders were sold with chances on the pretty gingham dress made by Mrs. Waite from materials donated by Mr. Webb, there was also a big run. The Swat the Kaiser did business as fast as customers could be served.

The big feature of the evening was the pageant grouped around the pretty mythological play representing the abduction of Proserpina by Plutus, how the tears of her mother Ceres won the sympathy of the Gods on Mount Olympus who sent Mercury to tell her Proserpina would be restored to her on condition that she should never eat of the fruits of the earth, how Ceres joyfully accepted the conditions and Proserpina was restored to her, how the condition was broken and Proserpina ate of the fruit and was again claimed by Plutus. The Gods again interfered through Mercury and arranged that Proserpina shall divide her time spending half the year with Plutus, when the earth will be desolated in winter, and the other half with Ceres when summer will again prevail. Mr. Myton, the author of the playlet called "The Great Soul of Little Things," had a part in directing it though Mrs. Pearl Keller, whose dancing pupils performed it, directed the performance chiefly.

It was one of the most artistic things that has ever been seen in Glendale. The dancing, which was all barefoot, was all done on a carpet of clipped grass with a lovely background of greenery. It was so free and spontaneous under the harvest moon but with of course the most artistic placing of the spot lights, that the audience was completely captivated, and wished that all the exhibition dancing might be done in such an environment. It was certainly a fine advertisement of what the Keller school does with pupils, and a demonstration of the unusual talent

A DUTY EMPLOYERS OWE THE GOVERNMENT

A statement to employers of labor regarding their responsibility to aid in the classification of registrants by Exemption Boards, has just been issued by Provost Marshal General Crowder which should be of interest to every man and every firm which has occasion to hire men who have registered in the recent draft. He says:

"The time has now come when I must address to you some recommendations as to your share of responsibility in the classification of the new registrants under the selective service act. I have noticed in the general expressions of the public attitude which reach this office, two frequent features which lead me to the present comments. One of these features is the belief that the process of awarding deferred classification to a registrant requires merely the filling out of the Questionnaire, and that the selective service boards will perceive the propriety of making the deferment without the assistance furnished by the registrant's formal claim indicating the deferment desired. The other feature is the employer's failure to realize his responsibility to intervene in aiding the board's determination and therefore inform himself fully on all the considerations which should affect the decision as to deferment. Both of these features are due to a single larger fact, viz., a failure on the part of many to reflect on the industrial considerations governing deferred classification.

"1. As to the first-mentioned belief, it must be pointed out that if it were universally acted upon, the process of classification would be seriously hampered and delayed. Some one must indicate that the individual case is one which should arrest the special attention of the boards in respect to the registrant's occupational status. The boards do not possess a superhuman omniscience. Nor are they permitted by circumstances to devote unlimited time to the search of questionnaires for possible grounds of claim. In 1917, out of more than 3,000,000 registrants called, only 140,000 filed occupational claims, or 4.7 per cent; thus 95 per cent of all registrants raised no question of such deferment. Under the questionnaire system the exact scrutiny of every page of this 95 per cent of questionnaires presenting no occupational claims would have been an intolerable expenditure of time, involving a delay fatal to the speed and decisive action necessary for filling the Army.

"The boards will do all that they possibly can, on their own initiative, to reach a just decision by a complete examination of the questionnaire even where no claim is expressly made; following in this respect the spirit of the Secretary of War's statement made before the House Committee on Military Affairs on August 19 last: 'It is not easily possible—it is, perhaps, not possible at all—to do that without some aids from the men affected; but as far as it is possible we ought to have the facts developed by the answers to the questions which the man makes and call on him for as little aid as we can in determining whether or not he is to be exempted." A registrant is therefore at liberty, if he sees fit, to trust to the scrutiny of the boards to discover the necessity for his deferment.

'Nevertheless, the boards will welcome and will need all the aid that can be furnished by the indication of a claim made for deferment. With this aid, the process will become a simple and speedy one. Time and labor will not be wasted on needless search; and ample time will be gained for thorough attention to those cases explicitly raising a question of occupational deferment.

"But who is to make that claim? Ordinarily, the registrant himself will indicate the claim on his questionnaire. But if, through mistaken chivalry, he should fail to do so, another may make it for him. In industry, agriculture, or other occupations, this other person will naturally be his employer or some other representative of his associated group. And this brings me to the second feature above mentioned.

"2. Why should the employer, or other third person, in such cases, make the claim? Because the employer in this situation represents the Nation—because (in the statutory phrase) 'the maintenance of the Military Establishment or of national interest during the emergency' requires that some well-advised third person should look after that national interest, which the registrant himself may not have sufficiently considered.

"It is at this point that I wish to address to employers (and other representatives) the suggestion that they charge themselves, more systematically than hitherto, with this responsibility. I have above referred to such third persons as 'well-advised,' and this is the place to emphasize to employers the importance of making themselves well advised for the execution of this duty.

"How many employers having charge of some industrial or other occupational group have hitherto taken pains to inform themselves systematically which of their employees are registrants and which are not? How many have studied carefully the required conditions for occupational deferment as laid down in the President's regulations pursuant to the statute? How many have made it a point to survey their entire plant so as to single out the really indispensable individuals? With the oncoming of a more extensive registration an even larger outlook is necessary. The general industrial conditions, the supply of skilled men in the industry at large, the possibilities of training substitutes, the availability of women workers—these are some of the considerations which bear directly on the need of occupational deferment as related to the need of the Army.

"Moreover, it is often forgotten that the selective draft is only one element in the depletion of a particular industry's man power. A second and large element is found in the voluntary withdrawals for enlistment; how large this is may be seen from the circumstance that the total inductions by draft have reached some 2,000,000, while the total enlistments in Army and Navy amount to some 1,400,000—nearly three-quarters as many. A third element, very large, but unknown as to its precise extent, has been the transfer of labor power from one industry to another, i. e., into the distinctively war industries offering the inducement of higher wages. How relatively small in actual draft has been the effect of the selective draft is seen in the fact that for all the occupations represented in the 8,700,000 classified registrants of January, 1918, the percentage of the entire industrial population represented by the Class I registrants amounted to only 6 per cent. It ran as low as 3 per cent for some occupations, and correspondingly higher for some other occupations; but the national average was only 6 per cent. Any notably larger depletions in particular industries must therefore have been due partly to enlistments, and in probably greater degree to voluntary transfers into other industries.

"These other influences are, therefore, to be kept in mind by employers and others in weighing the question whether the best solution, in the national interest, is to ask for the deferment of individuals or groups of men. Such deferments may assist the immediate situation in the particular establishment, but they merely force the Army and Navy to seek elsewhere for the same number of men thus deferred. The quantitative needs of the military forces are known and imperative, and any given quantity of deferments will ultimately have to be made up by the depletion of some other occupation. Thus, it becomes the employer's duty to consider these largest aspects of deferment in seeking that solution of his own problem which best comports with the national interest.

"My present object is to urge upon employers the duty and responsibilityof becoming well advised in all these matters, of equipping themselves with full information as to the extent to which their particular establishment is affected by the liability of registrants to military service, of observing the extent to which other influences of depletion have affected it, and the degree in which other methods of supply can relieve that depletion, and of laying these facts and other pertinent ones before the industrial advisers now to be placed at each district board, to the end that those individuals or groups who are indispensable and irreplaceable should receive deferment, whether or not they have made claim for it, and that the Army and the Navy should not be deprived of its proper supply of man power by ill-considered deferments not absolutely demanded by the national interest.

"The cessation of enlistments will henceforth protect industry against one irregular and uncontrollable source of derangement. It will correspondingly throw upon the selective service system the greater responsibility for an intelligent and discriminating selection made in the light of industrial needs. But this responsibility is shared by employers and all who represent groups of workers. To fulfill this responsibility they must now prepare themselves even more carefully than hitherto. They will find the boards heartily ready to co-operate with them to the utmost.

"The keynote of purpose for all of us ought to be, and I am sure will be, that wise and profoundly significant phrase in the act of Congress under which we operate, 'the maintenance of the Military Establishment or the effective operation of the military forces or the maintenance of national interest during the emergency.'"

TO AID ALGERIAN FARMERS

A cablegram received August 24 by the Bureau of Plant Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture announced the safe arrival in Paris of a party of agricultural experts of the bureau. They are en route to Algeria, Tunis, and Morocco to investigate and advise on the possibilities of increasing the agricultural out put of those French colonies. The visit is to be made at the request of the French high commission now in the United States. The party is composed of E. C. Chilcott, in charge of the dry farming investigations of the bureau; C. S. Scofield, in charge of the bureau's work in development of irrigation agriculture; and T. H. Kearney, in charge of important work with alkali and drought-resistant crops.

Mrs. Purnell has occupied this beautiful home for seven years and has greatly endeared herself to all who regret very much her departure from their immediate neighborhood. They are congratulating themselves, however, that the sale of her home does not mean that Mrs. Purnell will remove from Glendale but will occupy one of her houses at 1437 (old number) Riverdale drive, where she will be glad to see her many friends.

IN SERVICE OF UNITED STATES

H. S. McKay, of Flint Ridge, son-in-law of Senator Flint, and one of the very efficient members of the local Legal Advisory Board under the first draft, has entered and been accepted at the officers' training school at Atlanta, Georgia, for the Machine Gun Corps. He reports that the greatest part of his training so far has been in the use of the pick and shovel in the making of trenches and he has been kept too busy to even roll a cigarette. Mrs. McKay is about to leave for Atlanta to remain during the period of his stay there.

William R. Flint, son of the Senator, is in an officers' training camp at Pocatunk, about fifty miles from Washington. He is in the Marine Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Hearn Robinson.

THIS WEEK

while speaking to a friend in a hotel lobby, a guest of the hotel who was standing near, a fine-looking man in the latter sixties, overheard enough to know that I was a life insurance man and spoke up, saying: "You are in a great line of work. Go after these young and middle-aged men and make 'em insure. I have missed my chance, but now realize that in no other way can a man increase his estate so cheaply and so securely as by policies of old-line life insurance." This, from a prosperous and successful man.

I know this is the way you will feel if I can only persuade you to put your money into protection for your family and your own old age, with a Provident Endowment.

STATE CONVENTION NOTES

Arthur G. Lindley of 342 N. Kenwood St., has returned from an auto trip to Sacramento where he was a delegate to the State Prohibition convention which convened at the capitol building on Tuesday afternoon. He reports a very interesting, harmonious and successful session at which the party formulated its platform for the next two years, and attended to other matters that regularly came before the convention for action.

On Tuesday evening Mr. Lindley attended the evening session of the Republican convention which proved to be extremely interesting, made so particularly by the "wet" delegates from San Francisco, who were there in full force and fought bitterly to prevent a "dry" plank being put into the Republican platform. They claimed they had been so instructed by their constituents and as "honorable" gentlemen they must insist upon the elimination of any "dry" plank. The dry forces were also well represented and the debate continued until nearly 2:00 a. m., at which time by a roll-call vote the dry forces won, the vote standing 66 to 32, and the Republican party stands pledged to support the federal prohibition amendment.

At the beginning of the evening session Gov. Stephens was ushered into the convention hall by a special committee and made a splendid and timely address, which was euthusiastically applauded at frequent intervals.

C. C. Young, candidate for lieutenant governor, was then introduced in similar manner and made a splendid address also. There seemed to be no division of sentiment regarding these leaders of the party at the coming election, and it seems practically certain that these two splendid men will serve this great state during the next term of office as governor and lieutenant governor respectively.

POLICE DOINGS.

Friday the Glendale police department had a little variation of the monotony of their ordinary routine of supervising the peaceful, law-abiding citizens of our city. As usual it was provided by outsiders. In this case it was two boys on motor cycles who drove up to the fruit stand operated by a Japanese couple, George Yada and his wife, on Los Feliz Road just west of San Fernando Road. The boys pretended to have had a breakdown and made various pretexts for visits to the fruit stand asking the prices of various articles with seeming intent of sending Mrs. Yada, who was in charge, to the rear part of the stand for stock. She finally did leave the stall to get a flower pot for which one of them had asked and they immediately took advantage of her absence to make a raid on her cash register. Hearing the drawing out of the drawer and discovering what they were about, she raised the alarm and her husband appeared in time to grab one of the boys. The other got away after extracting $15 in currency leaving untouched $75 in bills beneath the tray. In response to call the police arrested the boy held by Yada. He gave his name as Kenneth Childs of Los Angeles. He was held until midnight as he claimed he had no connection with the boy who stole the money and was not with him. He was finally released for lack of evidence sufficient to warrant his detention as Mr. and Mrs. Yada could not positively identify him as a culprit, but was allowed to go subject to further investigation. Since that time Chief Herald has had information from Saugus which indicates that the stories told by Childs were untrue and it is probable he will be re-arrested.

Another theft was reported by Mrs. Grant who has been occupying a tent cottage at Arbor Rest. Friday noon a purse containing $25 which she had left on a porch, disappeared. She reported that she saw an elderly man who looked like a Mexican running from the place who, she thought might have taken it, but police scouts sent to beat the territory could find no man answering the description.

Another duty which the police have been called upon to perform was the escorting to Los Angeles of Arthur Shugart, who has been occupying his summer home out in the wash under the bridge and soliciting cold victuals from the charitable. He represented that he wanted work. He had a Los Angeles registration card and the police took him to the public employment bureau and it found a job for him right away.

The La Gross Garden of Prize Dahlias at the corner of Doran and Louise streets is now open to the public. Cut flowers for sale. All are welcome to inspect the wonderful flowers and select bulbs for next year's planting. 14t4

DON'T LIKE AMERICAN GAME

Santa Clara will not switch to the American style of football. The padres at Santa Clara who have taken the place made vacant by the enlistment of Father Walsh, director of athletics last year, do not favor the American game, and declare that the student body—what little there is of the same—does not even consider switching to American, so great is the love of Rugby down at the Mission school.

LOS ANGELES DIVISION STATE COUNCIL OF DEFENSE.

Five members of the Priorities Committee of the Los Angeles Division of the State Council of Defense were appointed in Los Angeles at the regular meeting of the Executive Committee of this organization by Chairman R. W. Pridham.

The Chairman of the new Priorities Committee was announced as Henry W. Keller and the members appointed D. F. McGarry, J. J. Backus, B. S. Young and Donald Barker. Two more members will be appointed later by Chairman Pridham which will complete the organization of the committee.

The functions of this committee is to determine as to the advisability of spending money for new buildings and improvements when the cost of such exceed a stated amount probably $2500.

HERE IN LOS ANGELES.

An artist who has been stopping at the Alexandria, took his easel and other paraphernalia and went down into Santa Monica Canyon where he began to paint a sunset, all red and blue and green.

Who should stumble onto the scene but Bill Hart in his well known gunman rig, just off "location.'

"Ah," said the artist, mistaking Bill for an ordinary cowboy, "perhaps to you, too, nature has opened her sky pictures page by page. Have you seen the lambent flame of dawn leaping across the vivid east; the red stained sulphurous islets floating in the lake of fire in the west; the ragged clouds at midnight, black as a raven's wing, blotting out the shuddering moon?"

"No,' said Bill solemnly, "not since the town voted dry."

GIRL GETS HONORARY COMMISSION

Miss Marjorie Coryn, daughter of Sidney Coryn of 'Frisco, and who has been serving in the canteen with the 4th French army under General Gouraud, has been given an honorary commisison as lieutenant in the British Royal Engineers. While serving in the canteen at Barle-Duc, Miss Coryn assisted a number of British engineers who got into difficulties with the French language, and later, when the engineers moved nearer the front and she received an invitation to officers' mess with them, she acecpted. It was then that she was notified she had been given a commission.

MISS SCOTT HONORED

Miss Merva Scott who is entering the government service as an entertainer was given a farewell surprise party by Mrs. P. C. Dodge of 226 Elk Avenue. Miss Scott leaves Friday for San Diego where she will fill an engagement in the musical comedy entitled "Let's Go," with which the boys at Camp Kearney will be entertained. The company is under military discipline and expects to play in every cantonment in the country, the tour occupying about a year.

During the evening the party was entertained with music beautifully rendered by Mrs. George H. Robinson and Al McKenzie. Miss Scott also contributed several numbers of her clever dancing to the delight of the guests. Light refreshments were served by the hostess. Those honoring Miss Scott and enjoying Mrs. Dodge's hospitality were, Miss Mable Eckles, Miss Dorothy Tilden, Miss Olive Hoffmeyer, Miss Gladys Mason, Miss Olive Wright, Miss Mary Vendenberg, Miss Mildred Martin, Messrs. Harold Phillips, Jen Martin, All Davis, John Clark, Chester Mittendorf, Al MacKenzie, Mrs. R. M. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Robinson.

of the girls of our city. Miss Lois Naudain, who is not of the Keller school, was also seen in solo in the Sun Dance, which she interpreted with fine expression and wonderful grace of movement. The program included also the dance of the sowers, the dance of the rain stripes, and the bluebird and sunbeam ballets, of which the audience could hardly get enough, likewise the pipers of spring dance. Miss Isabel Boyer of Los Angeles gave charmingly a Vanity Dance. It is impossible at this time to personally mention all who contributed by artistic work to this program, but to Mrs. H. E. McMullen should be given credit for her impersonation of Ceres and to Clarence and Esther Ralston for the parts of Mercury and Proserpina.

The orchestra of the Pasadena Elks' club generously contributed service in furnishing music for the pageant, and in the interludes between scenes.

Mr. Bachman has been invaluable in arranging the affair and in promoting its production.

A part which included several numbers which created interest was furnished by the Vivienen Stafford orchestra of Los Angeles which is made up of talented members who generously contributed service because it was for the Red Cross.

The last number, the chorus of the grains was awaited with special interest and in no degree disappointed the listeners. It called to the footlights Ebenezer Corntossel and his assistants as well as others in quaint array who sang the musical and spirited Song of the Grains, the music of which was written by Mrs. L. N. Hagood of this city.

The grand stand was well filled last night but will probably be packed tonight by the good reports which will be given by patrons who enjoyed it Friday.

It will be preceded by the Military Wedding which will take place in the auditorium of the High School at 8 o'clock.

DID NOT WANT TO STAY AT HOME

In these days when there is so much talk about slackers and how they try to avoid military duty, it is refreshing to know that many who are incapacitated because of physical disability try to trick the government into taking them into the service. Army surgeons tell many stories of incidents which are pathetic because of the disappointment to patriotic boys who have to stay behind.

During the early examinations out at the Presidio of San Francisco a young man applied as a volunteer. He was slight of build and looked to be under height. He passed the examination well and when put under the tape just made the height. He was then stripped and when it came to the examination for flat feet it was found that he had a heavy piece of surgeon's plaster on his heel.

"What is the matter with your heel?" asked the surgeon.

The boy blushed and stammered and then it was found that the other heel was similarly adorned. The boy was a quarter of an inch under height and had built himself up.

"Anybody that wants to go that bad can pass me," said the surgeon. "Go ahead and grow while you are fighting," and it was a happy boy who came out of the examination room.

Another applicant was not so fortunate, though he was just as patriotic. He was a magnificent specimen of humanity and passed all exterior examination. When it came to stripping he did not take off his drawers.

"Take 'em off," said the surgeon. He hesitate until at last the surgeon began to lose patience. When the drawers came off a cork leg below the right knee was in evidence. He nearly cried when told that he would have to stay at home.

San Francisco capitalists have acquired the once famous Liberty Hill property at Dutch Flat and commenced building a huge restraining dam on Bear river, near the Polar Star and Franklin mines.

WHAT RELIGION IS THE KAISER'S?

This has been a live question for some time among us Americans. Yet it has been stated time and again that he and his entire family of Hohenzollerns belong to that noble religious family of Lutherans—followers of that humble and pious hero of the reformation, Luther.

That being stated and generally believed by the uninformed, because they fail to understand the various types of protestantism existing in the German empire, without hesitation and investigation the Kaiser is declared to be a Lutheran.

No sane man would have the boldness to say, whether they fully understand the teachings of the Lutheran church or not, that this foremost body of protestants would maintain such teachings that would give the German emperor, his war-lords or his six lordlings, (six sons) the inspiration to break up the peace of the whole world and carry on such a war of brutality and "frightfulness" for the glory of personal ambition. The teachings of the Lutheran church are the teachings of the Holy Scripture only:—"Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake; whether it be to the king, as supreme; or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for punishment of evil doers," and for the praise of them that do well."

As the devil is the author of all evil, the Lord calls him the "father of it." At his door must be laid the inspiration for the reign of terror in Europe, and with him must the Kaiser and all who are at one with the Kaiser, be linked up in the same catagory.

Again others declare the German emperor has repudiated the Christian religion years ago when he visited Jerusalem at the permission of the Sultan of Turkey, and dedicated an alleged German Lutheran church in that city. Claim is made that he accepted the Mohammedan system of faith and that being a religion of extermination of all who dare believe otherwise, would account for the awful reign of "frightfulness" in all countries invaded by the German armies, inspired by his Mohammedan belief. Be that as it may.

As a loyal and patriotic citizen, one of 10,000 other Lutheran ministers in this country, there is a feeling abroad that because the Kaiser is alleged to be connected with the Lutheran church in Germany, and he is the best hated man in the world today, therefore the church of his faith must suffer with him and reflections must be cast upon the Lutheran church, no matter where it is found. American Lutheranism is far different from that type on the European continent.

One man cannot make a church nor unmake it, any more than the behavior of a president can be charged up to the United States. And individual members do not always reflect the letter and spirit of the organization with which they are connected.

Let me clearly say, after the best information obtainable, that neither the Kaiser nor the Hohenzollern family of German emperors are Lutherans in part or in toto. They are not considered as members of the Lutheran church in Germany.

In the summer of 1898 when the German emperor dedicated the "Church of the Redeemer' 'in Jerusalem, he there and then confessed himself to be an "Evangelical," neither a Lutheran nor Reformed. And that simply means he acknowledged himself, speaking for his family also, that they were protestants, so there remains to be stated what type of protestantism the Kaiser adheres to.

Protestant history in the German empire is peculiar. Its forces have been divided for years among three great factions. The leading faction is the Lutheran followers of Luther; another is the Reformed, followers of John Calvin. And on the basis of a "religious confession there is still another faction called the Protestant or Evangelical, growing out of the former two.

In the year 1817 under Emperor Frederick William III, the "Church of the Prussian Union' 'was formed, including both the Lutheran and the Reformed factions. At the head of this state "Union" he placed himself with the church in which he worshipped. Before this, however, the Hohenzollerns were Reformed. This "Union" took an imaginary middle ground by drawing from both the Lutheran and Reformed confessions of faith where they agreed, and thus formed this third faction or wing of protestantism called the "Evangelical Church," to which the whole Hohenzollern family belongs today.

The university at Bonn was established to foster this type of protestantism. And all military churches in Prussia belong to this neutral faction, or hybrid church, because the soldiers in their training are drawn from both the Lutheran and Reformed wings.

This is the "State Church" of the German empire. Two congregations of this type of protestantism are located in Los Angeles.

Reference was made in this morning's papers to the Kaiser himself being a Lutheran and that if that church failed to find a suitable place for him for his retirement at the end of the war as Charles V found for himself in a monastery, the allies would easily provide such a place where he never again could have the chance to break up the peace of the world by a war of brutality, or any other kind of war that was selfish, and teeming with personal ambition to rule the whole world.

With his war-lords and lordlings he and they are no common criminals, punishment must be meted out to them commensurate with their standing and crimes, what better place could be selected than that island of "St. Helena," off the West African coast, that became the living tomb of Napoleon?

TO THE MORNING GLORY

By F. Lee Chauvan.

O morning-glory, hear the voice
Of my desire—
The glow of grace in thee revealed,
In me inspire.

The joy that cometh in thy morn,
Give thou to me;
I would unfold my heart to God
In truth with thee.

To know thy truth will make me free
Free from groping
In the darkness, for the dawning
Faintly hoping.

Thou art a sweet beatitude
To mourning hearts,
The Comforter that giveth peace
And hope imparts.

Let the light that gives thee glory
And thy beauty
In thy morning, guide my spirit
In its duty.

"ROOT FOR US."

"You home folks are the rooters to help us put the ball on the Berlin side of the German goal for a touchdown," is the burden of a letter written home by Colonel Charles W. Thomas, former adjutant general of California.

Says Thomas:

"It is encouraging to know that the folks at home are with us. This is a man's job and a man's game. I have always been a believer in the psychological assistance of the rooting section at a football game. In this war we are the team and you folks at home are the rooting sections. Your enthusiasm, your confidence, your cheers will help us put the ball over.

"We are being trained to the minute and when the signal is given we can and will go through the center or around the ends in good old Cardinal style.
